policy in relation to Europe, but in relation to it would have been more to his credit. our own continent. Long ago it was announced, with the general concurrence of public sentiment, that further colonization on this continent by any European power, could not be al lowed. The rights already required would be respected, but no farther encroachments by foreign powers would be tolerated. None profess to abandon this policy; but our action of State. late is a virtual abandonment of it. This whig administration has been fixing up treaties with England about the right of way through Central America, and inviting enlangiling anliances with all nations upon the same subject. In this they have also disregarded another principie held sacred by the people of this country; they have shown a practical contempt for the independence and sovereign rights of the Central American States. If England and the United American States, If England and the United States of the Contral American States. If England and the United States of the Contral American States. If England and the United States should make a treaty about the right of way through France, it would be held a gross insuit, requiring an apology.

What right then, have we to be fixing up treaties with England about the right of way through Nicataugus, without a suggestion from that State? Shall we insult her? She is a feeble Republic, strugging for existence, and has no power to resent I dignities. Besides, had we not as well allow England to colonize a part.

WHO Fats Good Bread?—Every one wishes to have good Bread, as a bad article is intolerable and unhealthy.

E. II. II A VERAFT now effers to the public bis superior Yeast Powders as a certain and efficacious preparation, warranted to make the very best kind of Bread when good flour is used. The materials used in making the Powders are of the fivest and hest quality, and are put up in air-tight tim hoxes so as to prevent spotting or losing their good qualities. They are recommended as equal to any made in the United States, and perfects and perfects. The proprietor is anxious that his Powders shall main-ialn a high reputation for pullty and excellence, and herefore requests that in ell cases where, after a fair-tial, the Powders have failed to give the desired satisfaction, they may be returned to give the desired satisfaction, they may be returned to the sciler, and the purchase money will be refunded.

These Powders being made of pure materials alone, and not adulte ated with other ingredients to increase their bulk, are therefore cheaper, as a less quantity is required to produce the desired effect.

A trial is all that is asked, as the use of a single box is sure to convince every one that they are really good and superior.

[From the Phila telphia Pennsylvarian.] Cast Iron Monument to Henry Clay.

We take pleasure in laying before our readers the following description of the monument about to be erected in the borough of Pottsville. The design is drawn by F. Hewson E.q. The statue, a correct likeness of Henry Clay, to be furnished from the celebrated ornamental iron works of Mr. Robert Wood, of this city, is of cast iron.

The model is being prepared by Mr. Wood'a principal artist and sculptor, H. Wesche, Esq., a pupil of the distinguished Schanthaler and Cornelius, whose reputation attained to a high degree of excellence in Europe prior to his en gagement with Mr. Wood, to whom he was his oduced some three years since, by the highly celebrated Von Siebald, St. Martin near pare on the Rhein, who in his flattering letter of introduction, congratulated the new world, that Mr. Wesche designed to devote his talents and active life to the promotion of the aris in

LYON'S KATHAIRON

LYEKYTHING in Nature is stanged by certain natural laws of form, utility, character, and durability, which are heirg developed, ascertained, and ciassified by man. When injurious effects follow trenthe workation of any of these laws, that individual informinal to his own nappiness who falls to seek a remedy. We slib heleve that Nature intended man to eujey the possession of a full head of thair until oldest age; but at this day liow tew do we see, at even the age of thirty years, who are not complaining of the lading off of their Hair. The young cannot take caution, and the old cannot apply a remedy too soon. To all such we would say, apply the LYON'S KATHAIRON.

INCONTESTIBLE KATHAIRON! We mean what we say in gueranteeing the Kathairon to be the hest in the world as a medicinal article for the Hulr, as a delightful article for the Toilet, and as an article which will always cure the Nervous fless Ache. These facts are ubundantly proved, and are becoming aidely known through its million friends, who are procisiming the testimory of its heneficial effects.
